III. Unfinished Business

- a. The committee continued its discussion regarding potential involvement with Homecoming planning.
- b. Our members noted that the Senator Pro Tempore serves on the Homecoming Council. The committee now has a potential point of contact to be more involved with upcoming Homecoming initiatives.
- c. Naomy Suarez will contact the Senator Pro Tempore regarding the committee's interest in Homecoming and will include Shilat Jayo-Acuna in the correspondence.

IV. New Business

- a. Ricardo Garcia introduced a potential opportunity to collaborate with INIT, an organization connected with students in engineering and computing-related fields.
 - i. Ricardo also noted that many students within engineering and computing programs may have limited familiarity with the Student Government Association and its services, initiatives, and representatives.
 - 1. The committee discussed the possibility of working with INIT to create an opportunity for senators to speak with students about SGA, student representation, and ways students can become more informed and involved.

Student Government Association

2. Members recognized this as a potential avenue for strengthening SGA outreach and increasing awareness among student populations that may not currently engage regularly with Student Government.
 - b. The committee discussed the importance of utilizing existing SGA communication and social media resources to support its future initiatives.
 - i. Members noted that the Chief of Staff oversees social media responsibilities and that a member of the Executive Cabinet also specializes in communications.
 1. Sharon Polo confirmed this information, and the committee plans to contact both individuals to discuss how their communication resources may assist with promoting committee initiatives and increasing student awareness.
